

i4Series has hosted networking events in Greenville since 2019. We've found that South Carolina has no shortage of smart people building things, but not many places where they actually run into each other. Founders, corporate leaders, investors, state innovation leaders are usually in separate rooms. i4Series serves as a connector, bringing together the innovation and entrepreneur community to share and celebrate new ideas.

BY THE NUMBERS

- 7+ years, est. Feb 2019
- 30+ live events produced
- 1,200+ curated registrations
- 40-60 decision-makers per regular event
- 150+ projected for special events
- 1,600+ newsletter subscribers

WHO'S IN THE ROOM

Recurring attendees come from support organizations such as SCRA / SC Launch, Clemson University Research Foundation (CURF), VentureSouth, NextGEN, and Launchpad Greenville. Our newsletter reaches leaders at Michelin, Milliken, GE, TTI, Schneider Electric, and AT&T alongside the founders and operators building the next generation of South Carolina companies.

PROOF

- Google returns in September 2026 with Lilyn Hester, Regional Lead, Community & Workforce Development, for "Hired for What, Exactly?" panel
- Google's Wilson White, a GSSM alum, spoke at the "Innovation. Investment. Vision." event in September 2021
- i4Series is listed on the StartupGVL Ecosystem Map, powered by NextGEN, as one of eight networking organizations powering Greenville's startup community.
- Events are hosted at Flywheel Coworking and other spaces where Greenville's founders already work.
